MAY CHOOSE CHICAGO

Windy City Likely to Get Next Democratic Convention.

IT IS INFORMALLY DECIDED

Democrats In that City Have Received Assurances from National Committee Men that Chicago Will Be Chosen.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Assurances have been received by local Democrats that Chicago will be chosen for the Democratic national convention of 1908.

Details of the space afforded for seats in the Coliseum were laid before National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan, and a conference which put the finishing touches on the plans was held between Mr. Sullivan and Chairman Thomas Taggert, of the national committee.

Further than that, Mr. Sullican made a brief statement which his friends construed as meaning beyond a doubt that it has been decided informally by the national committeemen, with nearly all of whom Chairman Taggert is frequently in conference, to hold the convention here.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDDENT

Machine Containing Five Persons Hit Moving Train.

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 20.—An automobile containing a party of five persons from Bristol, Conn., collided with the [illegible] York Hartfields express at Ashley Falls crossing, near here Sunday.

Three members of the motoring party were killed and the other two probably fatally injured.

According to the engineer of the express, Mr. Root was at the wheel of the auto. He had been racing with the train apparently, the train running almost parallel with the highway for some distance. The accident occurred at a grade crossing near the North Ashley Falls station.

At this point the highway crosses the tracks at an oblique angle. It is thought Mr. Root hoped to cross ahead of the train, but miscalculated the speed of the express and his machine hit the tender of the locomotive and was wrecked.

KILLED HOME INVADER.

Tragedy Reported from Waynesville, North Carolina.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 20—A telephone message from Jonathan's creek, 10 miles from Waynesville, this state, says that Mitchell Kirkentoll, a young man of 24, was shot and killed by Frank J. Jenkins.

Jenkins returned unexpectedly to his home and, it is alleged, found Kirkentoll and Mrs. Jenkins together. Both men, it is said, reached for pistols, but Jenkins fired first.

Kirkentoll was struck in the shoulder, and dropping his gun, ran through the doorway Jenkins sent another shot after him and Kirkentoll fell to the ground, expiring in a few minutes.

Later Jenkins surrendered to the authorities.

Fire at Ball Park.

Bridgeport, Aug. 19—Fire swept the amusement grounds at Steeple Chase Island Sunday causing $60,000 damage and creating something of a panic upon the 20,000 visitors. No one was seriously injured. Six structures were burned including the grand stand and bleachers on the baseball diamond, where 8,000 people had gathered for the Chicago-Bridgeport game.

"Hello" Girls Quit.

Athens, Ohio, Aug. 20—The entire force of operators of the local Home Telephone company walked out. Linemen and bookkeepers were pressed into service to relieve the congestion. The girls had demanded higher wages. The management claims it will have all places filled in a few days in spite of the scarcity of help and will not take back any of the girl strikers.

DISTRESS IN CASA BLANCA.

Condition of the English Calvary Is Said To Be Pitiful.

Casa Blanca, Aug. 20.—Two causes are working here in favor of peace.

The tribes around the town are not fighters but agriculturists, and must gather their crops. The other reason is lack of stores and cartridges on the part of the Arabs.

The condition of the British colony is pitiful. Their residences outside the walls of the city were destroyed by the French shell fire and were looted and burned by the Arabs. A moderate estimate of the losses is a million dollars. The Arabs loot the houses. Then come the [illegible] Jew, and after that come the worst elements of the Spanish population. Finally the French Foreign Legion took all that was left.

Thousands of starving dogs and cats crawl through the deserted streets searching for food among the ruins.

Food is very scarce. A contract was given for supplying the French troops with beef for one month, but the French occupation is likely to last many months.

A Kabyle courier arrived here and informed General Drude, the commander of the city, that unless the French surrendered immediately the Arabs would attack them in great force and would destroy them and Casa Blanca, too. General Drude made no reply.

An English deputation will leave for Tangier on Saturday to see the British minister. They will then proceed to London to lay the case of the British colony before the foreign office. All are eager to know upon whom rests the responsibility for the losses sustained.

British interests are paramount at Casa Blanca, where there are practically no French merchants, yet there is not a single British warship here.

U. S. SECOND ON THE SEA.

England Alone Leads This Country as a Sea Power.

New York, Aug. 20.—The tenth annual issue of F. T. Janes' "Fighting Ships of 1907," which is one of the recognized authorities on the navies of the world, and which has just been published in London, put the United States second among the naval powers of the world, with England first.

Speaking of the United States navy Mr. Janes, in his preface, says:

"The extraordinary high figures for the United States ships afford food for considerable thought, for both in ships with high-powered guns or impervious to vital injury at long range the United States fleet is superior to any other navy in the world. Even by the inclusion of the .40 caliber, 12-inch types, extinct so far as new ships are concerned, the United States is an extremely good second, and the corresponding lead in invulnerability outside 7,000 yards is considerably increased."

For the first time the navies of Mexico and Peru are included in the book this year. Mexico has eight vessels in commission and two small cruisers and eight torpedo boats authorized.

Hanged Wrong Brother.

Warsaw, Aug. 20.—Two brothers named Jan and Jan Karol Niewiadonski were confined in Warsaw prison, the former being sentenced to three months' imprisonment for a political offense, and th elatter to death for robbery with violence. One day the political prisoner was led out, and, in spite of his protests, hanged, instead of his brother. The mistake was discovered in a few hours later, and the governor has now commuted the death sentence of the surviving brother to one of eight months' imprisonment.

Girl's Assailant Caught.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 20.—The tramp who assaulted Alma Whitehead the 11-year-old daughter of Rev. J. M. Whitehead, of Turnopville, Pa., on Saturday night, was run down by bloodhounds, and captured shortly after midnight Sunday night in a swamp near Wick, Astabula county. He was immediately taken to the Meadville, Pa., jail.

GLENN IN NEW YORK

North Carolina Governor Talks of State Rights.

THE SITUATION IN HIS STATE

Says He Would Have Backed Up Judge Long with Every Soldier and Deputy In the State of North Carolina.

New York, Aug. 20.—Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, whose recent fight for what he deemed was the state's rights, attracted wide attention, is in New York to consult with attorneys who are in charge of the state's case at the hearing of the Southern railway's injunction suit.

The governor is a party bold and in the early fifties he was taking his case in his shirt sleeves at hs hotel after an all-day visit to Coney Island.

When seen by a reporter, he talked freely of the situation in his state as brought about by legislation to regulate the railroads.

"I have no patience," he said, "with this cry that legislation in our state and elsewhere in the south along these lines is going to retard the development of the south by frightening capital, hurting the railroads and in effect, killing the goose that lays the golden egg. I am an industrial governor. I have always made it a point to protect capital and protect the railroads from anything that was unfair, bu when he railroads try to run us, that is time to call a halt. There was only once that this matter became serious. Had Judge Pritchard tried to get our prisoner away from us and adjudged Judge Long in contempt, I certainly would have backed up Judge Long with every soldier and every deputy sheriff in North Carolina. Of course, if President Roosevelt had sent troops into our state, then we would have had to throw up our hands, as one could not fight the union, but we should have appealed to the voters of the country, and I think they would have been with us. There is only one way of dealing with these railroads. The point should be, is a railroad making money and how much is it making? If it is making over a reasonable profit, then it should submit to a reduction in rates. The North Carolina law permits the road to make 10 per cent. I think that this is a pretty good profit.

TAFT TO SPEAK.

Will Invite Democrats to Come Into the Republican Feld

Louisville, Aug. 20.—A special from Washington says:

Secretary Taft will have something interesting to say in his speech at the city of Lexington, Ky., next Thursday. He will discuss some of the questions embraced in his Columbus speech, will also touch upon an entirely new subject. It is his intention to exhort southern democrats to come into the Republican fold.

He will point out how, according to his view, the democrats of that section are in many essential respects republicans, except in name, and endeavor to convince them that it would be to the advantage of the south if they became republicans in fact.

Fought at a Church.

Covington, Ga., Aug. 20.—Bailiff William H. Aaron brought to the city Sunday afternoon Will Turner and Jim Wood, both negroes, who engaged in a difficulty at Union Grove church, about 5 miles east of Covington, while a negro association was in progress. As a result of the fight Turner is severely wounded with a bullet in the thigh and a deep gash across his face, while Wood is pretty badly hurt, having received a bullet wound in the face.

Monuments in National Parks.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 20.—The governor has signed the bill providing for the erection of monuments for the state on the battlefields of the national parks. It carries an appropriation of $25,000 a year for four years and out of it the friends of the movement hope will come at least one monument for each.

FAMOUS SLEUTH DIES.

Head of the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

New York, Aug. 20.—Robert Pinkerton, head of the detective agency, died on board the steamship Bremen August 12 at sea. He was enroute to Germany for his health and was accompanied by Mr. Florence Sullivan.

The death of Mr. Pinkerton was due to fatty degeneration of the heart. Mr. Pinkerton was only ill for two days.

Robert A. Pinkerton was one of the best known criminologists of the present day, and his treatises on crime and criminals have been accorded the distinction of classics with the police authorities of the United States and Europe. Robert Pinkerton, and his brother, William A. Pinkerton, have for a long term of years been the heads of the great Pinkerton National Detective agency, which was founded by their father, Allen Pinkerton, in the year 1850.

MAY ACCEPT TERMS.

Coast Line and the Alabama Rate Acts.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 20.—Inquirers are tipped off that the Atlantic Coast line is likely to be the next road to accept the terms of the state, and put in the rate acts of both freight and passengers.

A man usually well posted said that the Coast Line had very little interest in the state, and he did not think it would be willing to make trouble for all the rest of the property by keeping up or taking part in any litigation with the state. Colonel A. A. Wiley, local counsel, has been in Washington for a few days, and is expected back Monday, and knowing ones predict that the line will then come into the agreement.

There is an idea that the Central of Georgia will do the same thing, though it will be less apt to follow this course than the Coast Line, having so much track in the state.

BOUND GIRL TO TREE.

Brutal Assault on Daughter of a Methodist Minister.

Greenville, Pa., Aug. 20.—Miss Anna Whitehead, daughter of a very prominent Methodist minister of Tunnersville, Pa., is in a critical condition from a brutal assault perpetrated by a tramp.

Posses from two counties, with a pack of bloodhounds, are scouring the country in the vicinty of Jamestown for the man. Great indignation prevails.

Miss Whitehead met the stranger while on her way to a neighbor's house. The tramp inquired the distance to Simons, O., and while the girl was telling him he placed a knife at her throat and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

He then forced her into the woods and, after assaulting her, tied her to a tree, where she was later found almost dead.

TO KILL ALL FOREIGNERS.

Fanatical Moors Prepare to Wage War on Infidels.

Casa Blanca, Morocco, Aug. 20.—The native forces surrounding the city have sent General Drude, commanding the foreign forces, an ultimatum demanding immediate surrender on pain of attack, in which all foreigners will be slain.

General Drude has not yet replied. Thousands of Moors surround the town and if attacked it will probably fall, although the French forces are nopeful.

Morocco is filled with plots to overthrow the Sultan, pretenders to the throne having sprung up everywhere during the disorder, making the situation much

Parachute Failed to Open.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 20.—Theodore French, a young areonaut, met instant death by falling upon the roof of a factory in West Haven after a drop of 150 feet. Young French made daily ascensions at a summer resort here and he was on the program to make a double parachute drop. The first drop was successful, but on the second, which was made from a "catnon," the parachute failed to open.

BRYAN WOULD WIN

Would Be Chosen by Acclamation Thinks Taggart.

AS TO A MAN FROM SOUTH

Kentucky National Committeeman Does Not Share the Opinion of Senator Bacon as to the Question of Locality.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—The view entertained by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, that a southern man should receive the democratic nomination for president, is not shared by Chairman Thomas Taggart, of the democratic national committee.

While in no sense opposed to the nomination of a southern man, if one can be produced who looks like a winner, Mr. Taggart is of the opinion that the question of geography should not enter into the subject at all.

"What we want," he says, "is the right kind of man and the question of where he hails from is wholly unimportant. The convention should not give a thought to the question of locality."

Mr. Taggart suggests that if Mr. Bacon knows of a suitable man for the democratic nomination it would be entirely proper for him to present the gentleman's name to the national convention, but that the fact of such candidate being a southerner should carry no weight.

Senator Bankhead's suggestion that Judge George Gray, of Delaware, would "win over more republicans votes than any other man," has aroused some interest among Indiana politicians, but the impression is strong in this section that Bryan will be the nominee. In fact, many leaders of the party declare that no other name will be considered.

National Committeeman Woodson, of Kentucky, is also of the opinion that Bryan will carry everything before him in the national convention. He says that the "favorite sons" are not going to allow their names to be presented merely to be shot down, and he makes the prediction that Bryan will be nominated by acclamation.

BIG SHIPBUILDING LOCKOUT.

30,000 Men To Be Ordered Out of British Yards.

London, Aug. 20.—Notices have been posted in all the northeastern ship yards, ordering a lockout on Saturday.

Twenty thousand members of the boilermakers' society, and shipwrights, platers, riveters, caulkers and unskilled laborers incidentally employed by them, in all approximately 30,000 men, are affected by this order which has been issued by the shipbuilders Employers' association and posted in the shipyards at Barrow, on the Tyne and on the Clyde, Belfast and other centers.

The notification is the result of a strike by the calkers in the yards of the Armstrong-Whitworth company at Newcastle. They struck without notice in connection with a dispute relating to apprentices doing certain work. The boilermakers' action made the situation worse by refusing to order the Armstrong-Whitworth calkers to return to work.

Barrow-in-Furness, England, Aug. 20.—By order of the Employers' Federation 1,200 boilermakers were locked out of the ship yard of Vickers Sons and Maxim, owing to the strike of calkers on the east coast.

Woman and Boy Buried Alive.

Sylvia, N. C., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Susan Dills and her 16-year-old grandson, James Copp, were buried alive in a mica mine in Canada township. A landslide occurred while Mrs. Dill and her grandson were in the mine, and they were smothered to death.

Bumpers Crushed Him.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 20.—Fred Turust, a trolley man on a west train of the street railway, was killed instantly. He fell between two cars and the bumpers came together and crushed him.

[illegible] of North Carolina Not Satisfied With the Manner in Which He Has Acted, and Brought Matter in Court, But Strouse Was Absent.

[illegible] seems to be "something doing" in Hendersonville, N. C., as will be seen by the following dispatch, sent to a special to The Charlotte [illegible] Observer of the 17th inst.:

[illegible], August 16.—Highly sensational was the hearing before Judge [illegible] this afternoon on the [illegible] recently granted Rev. Dr. [illegible] evangelist and chautauqua [illegible] against the auditorium committee for the delivery of Hendersonville on the opening today many affidavits attacking Dr. [illegible] character and alleging that [illegible] was unfit to conduct a religious [illegible]. Incidentally Dr. [illegible] was not present. It was stated [illegible] had gone from Atlantic [illegible] Black, Mich., that he [illegible] from an attack of the [illegible] that he was a very sick [illegible]

[illegible] hearing today was a continuation [illegible] hearing. Last week [illegible] through his attorneys, [illegible] President for an injunction [illegible] the auditorium [illegible] of Hendersonville and its [illegible] contracting with him in [illegible] chautauqua scheduled [illegible] August 18. [illegible] by the witness that he [illegible] for every [illegible] was paid for the purpose [illegible] chautauqua and that [illegible]

[illegible] was not her early this [illegible] the affidavits were [illegible] affidavits sked to [illegible] with the re[illegible] should not be made [illegible] Black, of counsel [illegible] asked leave to see [illegible] and subsequently de[illegible] affidavits were of such [illegible] and contained matter that [illegible] another time to communi[illegible] with the court and have him here [illegible] The hearing was [illegible] today, but Dr. Strouse [illegible] The affidavits submitted, which [illegible] attack [illegible] by Hendersonville's [illegible] citizens.

[illegible] allege that Dr. [illegible] while at Hendersonville [illegible] attempted to injure the [illegible] claiming that there were un[illegible] which connected the [illegible] of the chautauqua manager [illegible] certain guests of the [illegible] whose names stayed; also [illegible] affidavits which attached [illegible] immorality.

[illegible]'s affidavit alleged [illegible] conduct was frivolous; that bad reports [illegible] by his conduct; that he [illegible] familiar with certain visiting [illegible] women. The whole purport [illegible] affidavits was that Dr. Strouse [illegible] to conduct a chautauqua [illegible] did not have the moral [illegible] of the town and that, therefore, [illegible] would fail.

[illegible] hearing was not continued today [illegible] it will be resumed tomorrow. [illegible] delegation of Hendersonville people came over to attend the hearing. The affair has created great interest in Hendersonville, where it is proposed to conduct a chautauqua, commencing Sunday, independent of Strouse.

It is hard for Dr. Strouse's friends here to believe that he would be guilty of any of the charges as are above stated, and he yet has the confidence of the believers here, who will not believe him guilty until he is proven so.

As a worker, Dr. Strouse has proved himself a great success. He is the founder of the Florida Winter Bible Conference, the Christian Workers' Institute, and the Gainesville Winter Chautauqua. His interests have always been with these institutions, and so earnest and persistent have been his efforts that it is impossible to believe that there is anything wrong with him and his objects.

Dr. Strouse has accomplished a great deal for Gainesville in establishing these institutions, and it is to be regretted that he has been dragged into this public mess.

SHOWER OF RICE

Racine, Wis., Aug. 20—The throwing of rice at weddings is forbidden by Rev. Theodore B. Meyer, pastor of St. Mary's German Catholic church, around which the largest and wealthiest parish in the city is centered.

This order came as the dramatic climax to a wedding. A merry crowd of guests was waiting outside the church, and when the bridal couple appeared, they were greeted by the customary shower of rice.

"I forbid this," cried the priest, as he emerged from the church. He says the custom is descended from semi-civilized people, and should not be tolerated. Besides, it is dangerous as well as obnoxious.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—SAM H. GWIN, Concord, Ga. For sale by all druggists.

Handsome Home Destroyed.

Valdosta, Ga., Aug. 20—The handsome home of C. C. Joiner, a few miles north of the city, was burned to the ground Saturday morning. The fire was discovered at an early hour by Mr. Joiner, in a room on the second floor, and had gained such headway that coals of fire were dropping through the floor and ceiling onto a bed on the floor below, on which his little son was sleeping. The family succeeded in escaping, but lost a large part of their wearing apparel and a great deal of furniture. It is understood that $4,500 insurance was carried on the home, but this does not cover the loss.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. When Satan hears a fellow swearing at warm weather in this world he smiles and says: "That fool doesn't know when he is well off!"

If we were granted 99 years' lease on life nine-tenths of us would ask for a renewal, and go growling to the grave because we couldn't get it.

We waste the goodly time sighing for riches, and when we get 'em it's only to find that we haven't time to give 'em away.

Baseball Kills Player.

Morristown, N. J., Aug. 20—Daniel V. McKeon, 22 years old, of 136 Wakeman street, Newark, was struck on the head by a baseball and killed. He was captain of the Franklin Athletic association team of Newark, which had a game scheduled with the Chatham Athletics. The Newark team was just finishing its practising before the game started and McKeon, having called his men to the bench, was walking the base line from first to home plate. The batter hit the mall for the last time and it struck McKeon, fracturing the base of his skull. He lived only a few minutse after being hit.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as

It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

A RUNAWAY HORSE CAUSES EXCITEMENT

Animal Belonging to C. M. Dell Showed His High Blood.

HORSE CALLED ON ROYAL COOK.

But the Visit Was So Sudden and of Short Duration That Mr. Cook Did Not Realize the Situation Until the Animal Had Gone.

One of the most exciting runaways to occur in Gainesville for some time, was that on Tuesday morning, when a spirited horse belonging to Charles M. Dell, the liveryman, and driven by D. A. Robertson, suddenly became frightened on East Mechanic street.

With a mad dash the animal began, and at the corner of East Main and East Mechanic streets the driver lost control of the reins. The buggy was dashed into a telephone pole, the occupant thrown out on his head, and the horse continued his mad flight. On the east side of the square was seated a negro, whom, it was afterwards said had not moved for two hours; but the horse came wildly toward him, and there was something active noticeable about the darkey. It was none too soon, however, as the horse leaped over the bench at the very point where the negro had been sitting.

Continuing at a breakneck speed, the horse entered the store of Royal Cook through the side door, proceeded to smash up a rocker that Mr. Cook had had several years, and which he prized dearly, and passed out of another door into the back alleyway, being checked only by a brick wall which stopped his progress.

It was a fortunate thing that Mr. Cook was possessed of presence of mind to take refuge behind a huge safe in his store, else he would have been run over and trampled to death.

The runaway, especially at the store of Mr. Cook, created a great deal of excitement, and a large crowd filled the store shortly afterward to ascertain the damage. Mr. Cook took the matter good-naturedly, however, and said he felt thankful that the breaking of his faithful rocker was the only damage sustained.

J. A. Abrams, who has been with his family residing in the home occupied by his brother, J. K. Abrams, during the latter's absence, has moved into comfortable quarters at the home of Mrs. Thrasher. His wife is now absent, visiting relatives in Savannah, Ga., but expects to return in a few days. J. K. Abrams and wife will also return about September 1. Mr. Abrams has been on a visit to the furniture markets of North Carolina, and, as manager of the Gainesville Furniture Company, has purchased a fine line of goods for the fall trade.

The Gainesville Five and Ten-Cent Store, which is owned by A. M. Dickson is now occupying the entire store of S. F. Brooks, and is enjoying a fine trade. Mr. Dickson who was for several years a traveling man, making his headquarters here, decided a few weeks ago that Gainesville was "the proper place," relinquished his position on the road, and took half of the store of Mr. Brooks. Since that time Mr. Brooks has gone out of business, and Mr. Dickson improved his opportunity to make an up-to-date racket store, which he has done. He is a popular young man, always ready to make friends, and will no doubt prosper in his new business.

Have Moved to Gainesville.

R. D. Medlin and family have moved to Gainesville, realizing the excellent educational advantages offered here. They come from Williston, where Mr. Medlin is extensively engaged in the manufacture of lumber.

The Medlin family is now located temporarily, but have leased the home of Capt. John B. Dell, Roper avenue, East Gainesville, which they will occupy about September 1, as Captain Dell expects to remove with his family to his elegant farm near Alachua. This house is one of the largest and most modern in East Gainesville, and is bound to prove satisfactory to Mr. Medlin.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Medlin will be glad to welcome them to Gainesville, and hope they will be pleased.

The City Council.

The City Council met in adjourned session Monday, but no business of importance was transacted.

There were present at this meeting President Pro Tem Bunch and Aldermen Cannon, Wittstock, Mixson and Vidal.

Upon motion C. M. Dell was granted a permit to erect a shed in the rear of his stable, the roofing on said shed to be of fire-proof material.

An ordinance to regulate plumbing and house-draining was passed upon its first and second readings, and ordered engrossed, after which an adjournment was taken until Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Have Returned to Gainesville.

J. U. Manning and family, after a year spent in Lakeland, have returned to this city, and will again make Gainesville their home.

Mr. Manning has purchased the residence on South Arredondo street, opposite the home of J. F. Bunch, and is now residing there with his family.

Mr. Manning and his family are gladly welcomed to their old home.

St. Augustine to Come.

The baseball enthusiasts of Gainesville will have an opportunity this week of witnessing two interesting games between the Oak Halls and the St. Augustine boys, as games are scheduled for Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The St. Augustine team is said to be a strong one.

JUDGE MASON'S COURT.

Six Negroes Arraigned On Charge of Gambling—Three Acquitted.

There was an interesting session of Judge Mason's court Monday, six negroes arrested by Deputy Sheriff [illegible] and Charles Wiggins at Fairbanks on a charge of gambling, being arraigned.

These negroes were Robert McKay, John Montgomery, Charles White, Edd Brown, William Huffman and Shepherd Pinkney.

Montgomery, McKay and White pleaded guilty, and were sentenced to pay a fine of $10 each and costs, or sixty days in the county jail.

Brown, Huffman and Pinkney, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and were placed on trial by jury. After hearing the evidence in the case the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The jury was composed of D. A. Robertson, foreman; C. A. W. Thomas, J. P. Bauknight, T. J. McRae, Sr., A. T. Zetrouer and W. J. Denby.

Baker & Baxter represented the defendants.

E. D. Atkinson, white, charged with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty, waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of the circuit court. Mr. Atkinson is from Micanopy.

THE COUNTY NORMAL.

School Is Progressing Nicely, and Prof. Cassels Is Pleased.

The County Normal School, recently established by the Board of Public Instruction, and which opened in this city Monday morning under the direction of Prof. W. H. Cassels, is proving all that was anticipated at the opening of the first term.

Prof. Cassels feels very much encouraged, and declares that the Normal will yet "show up" to good advantage. Those enrolled are going at the work with a determination and a vim, and the result is bound to prove of great advantage.

Among those who are attending the County Normal are Misses Anna Taylor, Eddie Reddick and Lida Bowers, and H. S. Glazier of Gainesville; Miss Lontine Barrow, Levyville; Miss Hattie Hawthorn, Hawthorn; Miss Jessie Hawkins, Alachua; Miss Lois Mitchell, Wannee; J. M. Patterson, LaCrosse.

PINHOLSTER HOME BURNED.

Unfortunate Predicament of Man Well Known in Alachua County.

L. W. Jackson, the clever traveling representative of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, has returned from points in Bradford county, where he has been for the past few days.

Mr. Jackson reports the burning of the home of David Pinholster at Brooker on Thursday, the loss being total, including all household goods. By heroic efforts on the part of neighbors, however, the barn was saved.

The home cost in the neighborhood of $3,000, and was one of the best in that section. It is understood that Mr. Pinholster carried only $400 insurance, and his friends sympathize with him in his loss.

Jack Haile to Rebuild.

J. M. Haile, who had the misfortune a few days ago to lose his elegant home and barn, together with other outhouses, is determined not to be outdone by the fire fiend, and will at once rebuild.

Mr. Haile ordered material immediately after the fire and has already begun work on his barn. He expects to place a force of workmen on his home as soon as the proper material arrives.

This home was one of the most modern of country houses, and Mr. Haile proposes to replace it with a house just as good.

Miss Tebeau's School.

Attention is called to the advertisement announcing the opening of Miss Tebeau's boarding and day school, which occurs on September 16.

This excellent school is now beginning its thirty-fourth year under one management, and during that time Miss Tebeau has turned out some excellent scholars. It is one of the best private schools in the State, and enjoys a patronage, not only from Gainesville, but from surrounding towns.

THE TALE OF A DRINK.

Among the new laws in Texas, says an exchange, is one which makes it a misdemeanor to drink from a bottle on any train in that State. As grim fate would have it a Kentucky Colonel was the first victim of the law. After journeying many miles his thirst rose up and made a motion to go into executive session. With becoming dignity he arose and proceeded by the most direct route to the receptacle wherein the ice water reposed, though it is not clear why he did so, as water plays no part in a Kentucky colonel's drink. Gently and dexterously drawing his hip pocket flask he moistened his parched throat and was on the point of returning the flask to its scabbard, so to speak, when a stranger touched him on the shoulder.

Thinking he was a fellow being in distress, the colonel, with true Kentucky hospitality, cordially and promptly handed over his flask, and with that delicate consideration which marks the true gentleman, turned his back so that it might not appear to be measuring with his eye the size of the drink the stranger was taking. But the stranger again touched him on the shoulder and as he turned around informed him that he was an officer of the law whose duty it was to arrest the colonel. He was arraigned at the next station, paid $10 and costs and wended his way a sadder, wiser and madder man. His friends are doubtful whether he recovers from the shock.

The Colonel's thoughts are unspeakable. His opinion of Texas is not fit to print. In the name of Sam Houston, Davy Crockett and Col. Bowie, what has become of the freedom and independence of Texas? What blighting shadow has fallen upon the Lone Star State? In the opinion of the Kentucky Colonel when a free man is denied the right to cut the alkali dust from his throat with a little of the same, freedom's banner should be furled and grown men should shun a State which is raising a race of molly-coddles on milk and branch water. Ten dollars for taking a drink! Shades of the Alamo!

It should never be forgotten that water transportation preceded rail; that, in all lands and ages, transportation by water has been popular because of its cheapness and convenience. One reason why Greece, for a period, led the world, was because, with its multitude of deep bays and inlets, abundant facilities were provided for water transportation. The great civilizations preceding those of the modern world grew up about the Mediterranean sea, for ages the world's great highway. Modern civilization has flourished most near the water. The Free Cities of the Middle Ages and the towns of the Hanseatic League made large use of available facilities for water transportation. No small part of England's power has rested on her navy and merchant marine. Civilization in the American Colonies and States was well developed along the sea-coast and eastern and southern rivers when the interior was still largely a howling wilderness. Furthermore, the wonderful work done by Marquette, La Salle, Hennepin, and the other early Jesuits in the way of exploring the interior, would have been impossible but for the inland waterways. These intrepid men, pushing their way to the headwaters of these streams, carrying their canoes across portages and then descending other streams, early penetrated to the very heart of the continent, and rendered possible moves of far-reaching importance on the international chess-board.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE TRUST TAX U. S.

Ten years of the Dingley law shows a tax of $3 a year on every man, woman and child in the United States. That's only what was paid in buying imported goods. The less direct tax for high prices on domestic goods with foreign competition throttled can never be estimated, but we may form some idea of it by the size of the fortunes accumulated by the magnates of the Steel trust, the Leather trust and the like. The most reliable statisticians estimate that each family in the United States pays an average of nearly $100 annually in increased profits to the trusts in consequence of the protection the tariff gives them.

Reports of the appearance of the bubonic plague in San Francisco—three cases and one death having occurred there last week—are not attended with any excitement, says The Savannah Morning News. The probabilities are that for many years there have been cases in San Francisco that the public never heard anything about, in the Chinese quarter and along the "Barbary Coast," where sailors from all quarters of the globe gather to drink and carouse. But the plague is not feared so much now as it was a dozen years ago. One of the greatest achievements of medical science in recent years is the growing ability of the men of the profession to calm the people and inspire confidence in them when an epidemic disease makes its appearance. In all probability this country has seen its last really great epidemic of any disease.

John D. Rockefeller has been a Republican and a liberal contributor to his party campaign funds, so the Republican party fixed it up in the Elkins bill that there was to be no imprisonment for rebating.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

We need models a whole sight worse than we need critics.

Try again! Live life over. It's never too late to mend.

Look for success and you will find it—just keep a looking.

Not what we take up, but what we give up—that makes us rich.

What we see depends almost altogether on what we are looking for.

Certainly! the man on the mountain has a longer day than the man in the valley.

We all make mistakes at times. It takes all sorts of experiences to shape a life.

Our noblest emotions and our richest sentiments are born in hours of deepest sorrow.

The over-careful mind of necessity is always tinged with doubts, fears pessimism and cynicism.

I am almost sure it depends on yourself whether you raise an angel or the devil in that boy of yours.

This life is no blot—it's no blank. It is overflowing with the richest meaning—and it all means something good.

I know a great many saints who are experts in committing you to the mercy of God and ignoramuses in showing any mercy themselves.

Hasten slowly—don't lose heart. If you have to put your iron on the anvil twenty times, what's the difference—just so the weld don't break?

The fact that the angels commit no sin is largely due to their surroundings. That same environment down here would make angels out of the last one of us.

Have you just simply robbed him of his ideal? He may seem to forget about it; he may act the same to you, but oh, how little forgiveness counts when a star goes out.

"Where are you going to?" Never mind! Just follow the sign board that has on it the Golden Rule. Do the nearest duty the best you can—that's the royal road to Paradise.

For one to go all to pieces, or for one to give a full rein to a suspicious nature, is like standing at your bank of strength weakening your reserve fund by perpetual overdrafts.

Somebody has said that every noble life leaves the fibre of it interwoven into the fabric of the world. "I will" is a projectile that hits the mark; a power that moves mountains.

What a tragedy! I have seen an apparently invulnerable character go out like a candle suddenly snuffed. The reef may be hidden for years and then wreck the stateliest ocean palace.

I don't believe that all of any man's heart is ossified. The wires are not all down. Like wireless telegraphy, there must be an instrument both in this and in another place if these unseen, aerial waves be recorded.

A competent authority declares that our great writers are not great robbers. Literature is not a repository of stolen goods. What seems like stealing by the steel pen is rather the putout of the lapidary, or a reissue of the mint, or, better still, the borrowing from a bank repaid with interest.

The more we love the more intensely sensitive are we to anything that looks like an oversight of our devotion. One should be slow to condemn what sometimes appears to be supersensitiveness. For, it may be, what we call such is but a storm of disappointed longing that sweeps a sea of perfect love.

It was only a fence advertisement, but I caught these words: "No wire fence can serviceably survive its smallest stay or strand. If No. 13 is the smallest, that determines the real life of the fence. A fence made with No. 11 strands, but with No. 12 stays, has only No. 12 value." And that makes me think—after all, character is no stronger than at its weakest point.

Mable Osgood Wright declares that there is no flower so completely woven into the history of the human race as the rose. It is fitting that the rose should be the universal flower, for it is one of the few blossoms that, like true love itself, preserves its fragrance beyond its mortal life and never knows corruption. If its blooming time is fleeting, so much the more is it precious.

A great deal of the praying reminds me of a steamer in perpetual fog—their fog-horn is forever wide open. Lots of poor devils live so near the hogs that they have need to blow their fog-horn all the time. There is a blessing in it after all. The other fellow can steer his boat around the other way. We wonder some souls are lonely; the perpetual howl of their fog-horn makes one keep out of the range of even the "speaking distance."

To chase happiness is to chase a butterfly—says "Lights and Shadows." We catch it and in our grasp that which allured us wipes off the wings. A little useless colored dust upon our finger tips is all that remains to tell the story of our evanescent joy. We sit down and sigh. But before our grief grows too great, another comes along and the chase is on again. And thus it goes—on and on—until life's lengthening shadows bring a twilight through which we cannot see.

The other day I overheard a successful financier say you could not give the average man carte blanc privileges. One must conclude, therefore, either that humanity is woefully gone on common honesty or that the pursuit of wealth brings its dread of thieves. To see things in their measure depends on the lens through which you are looking. All this bluster about a decay in common honesty finds its explanation in the one who makes the charge. A man sees the honesty of others in proportion to his own honesty. Every fellow is his own view-point.

Nature writes her history. The tell-tale hands of time record the flight of the years. The loitering rain-drop leaves its tiny story on the stone. Gravel, tossed down the hill by teasing waters, shows where once the rippling rill went laughing on its way. Ferns have left their impress on the dark and secret coal beds. The bowed head of the giant oak tells which way flowed the unseen, airy river that swept through them when they were young. And by these habits that were fixed in the years now gone come the tell-tale history of the stretch of years through which we have come. We shall be read and known to all men—each one of us. As is the silent history of the rocks and hills, so shall we belong after our bodies have mouldered back to common dust.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

...BY NIGHT RIDERS.

... Ky., Man Has Received Threatening Letters.

... Ky., Aug. 20.—Robert W. White, of this city manager of the Geiser Manufacturing company, has received a large numbe rof letters from "night riders" warnig him to stay away from his old home at Caldwell county.

The letters accuse Mr. White of being an anti-association man and of influencing his relatives not to join the organization. Mr. White's father recently joined the association. There have been over thirty of these anonymous letters in many different handwritings, and mailed at various points in districts.

Company Fined $5,800,000.

Willemstad, Curavoa, Aug. 20.—A dispatch from Caracas, Venezuela, says that in the case of the government against the New York and Bermudez company, which is charged with assisting the Matos revolution, the court of first instance has adjudged that the defendant pay 24,178,488 bolivars (about $5,800,000) in reimbursement of the expenses incurred by the government in quelling the revolution and also upward of 9,000,000 bolivars for other losses to the country from the revolution. The defendant will appeal.

If we had no failings ourselves we should not take so much pleasure in finding out those of others.—Rochefoucauld.

SITUATION IN CHINA

Revolutionary Movement Gains More Strength Daily.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—A dispatch from Shanghai says that the situation in China, especially in the Yang Tse valley, continues unsatisfactory.

It is impossible, the message adds, o say wheher or no a general outbreak is impending, but the revolutionary movement gains strength daily and the secret organizations are growing visibly. The Chinese officials say that thousands of revolutionists are concealed in the foreign quarters of the cities, thus placing themselves outside the jurisdiction of the Chinese courts.

The revolutionary agitation recently was carried into the army. Murderous plots against the Manchias continue to be discovered in Pekin.

THREE FATALLY BURNED.

Gasoline Explosion on the Launch Edna May.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 20—The gasoline launch Edna May, bound from Monteo for Nags Head, with a large party aboard, caught fire from explosion near Manteo, and was burned to the water's edge.

Miss Cora Midgett, one of the passengers, was blown into the water, and drowned, and the engineer and fireman all reported fatally burned.

A negro in a passing sloop rescued those aboard the burning ship. The rescued were landed at a nearby port. All were burned, some of them seriously.

A Tax Scheme That Failed.

Switzerland has always prided itself on its independence, and in fiscal matters this proud spirit, which will brook no interference with the rights of the individual, even by the state in quest of revenue, has sometimes been exhibited in curious ways, says the Pall Mall Gazette. As the inquisitorial methods of income tax collectors are abhorrent to the freedom loving Swiss, house were once or twice set up in several cantons to receive the voluntary contributions of loyal citizens. It was hoped that this method of relying on the public spirit of the people would prove successful in raising money for public ends; but, alas for human nature, in the course of a few years the collectors on opening the boxes found nothing but—trouser buttons. So the voluntary system, after fair trial, had to be reluctantly abandoned in favor of a declaration of capital and income, which is liable to official investigation.

Mystery of Shoe Laces.

Probably no trade secrets are more jealously guarded than the modus operandi employed by manufacturers of shoe laces. The braiding process is the main bone of contention, being the most intricate end of the work. Lest counterfeiters should attempt to duplicate sections, there are no automatic shoe lace making machines placed on the market, either in this country or abroad. In order to insure protection against possible spies about the plant different parts for the machine are wrought or cast at various distant points, whence they are shipped to headquarters and there put together. In the assembling of divisional members the utmost care is exercised that no prying eyes are around the factory. In some instances the artisans are sworn to secrecy.—New York Press.

Cinderella.

It was in ancient Egypt that the story of Cinderella originated. Moslerus, however, owe the familiar nursery story directly to the Frenchman, Charles Perrault, whose "Cindrillon" appeared at the end of the seventeenth century. Perrault took his Cinderella from earlier versions, which came no doubt from the story of Rhodopis' bath. That Egyptian beauty had prepared to bathe when an eagle swooped on one of her slippers, carried it to Memphis and dropped it on the lap of King Psammetichus as he sat administering justice. He admired it, had Egypt searched for its owner, married her and lived happy ever after.

The Painting Jeffersons.

"The Siege of Belgrade," a comic opera by Cobb, was the first new production in New York in 1796-97. For it Mr. Jefferson's grandfather, Joseph Jefferson 1st, painted the scenery, and in it he played the character of Leopold. Mr. Jefferson's father, Joseph Jefferson 2d, who, like his illustrious son, was born in Philadelphia, was more manager than actor and more painter than either. As a boy he studied architecture and drawing, and he was also pupil to the scenic artist Robert Coyle, an Englishman of repute at that period. — Francis Wilson in Scribner's.

SECRET MISSIVES.

Solutions That Produce Writing Invisible Until Treated.

Ovid, in his "Art of Love," teaches young women to deceive their guardians by writing their love letters with new milk and to make the writing appear by rubbing coal dust over the paper. Any thick and viscous fluid, such as the glutinous and colorless juices of plants, aided by any colored powder, will answer the purpose equally well. A quill pen should be used.

The most common method is to pen an epistle in ordinary ink, interlined with the invisible words, which doubtless has given rise to the expression, "reading between the lines," in order to discover the true meaning of a communication. Letters written with a solution of gold, silver, copper, tin or mercury dissolved in aqua fortis, or, simpler still, of iron or lead in vinegar, with water added until the liquor does not stain the white paper, will remain invisible for two or three months if kept in the dark, but on exposure for some hours to the open air will gradually acquire color or will do so instantly on being held before the fire. Each of these solutions gives its own peculiar color to the writing—gold a deep violet, silver slate, and lead and copper brown.

There is a vast number of other solutions that become visible on exposure to heat or when having a heated iron passed over them. The explanation is that the matter is readily burned to a sort of charcoal. Simplest among these are lemon juice and milk, but the one that produces the best results is made by dissolving a scruple of sal ammoniac in two ounces of water.

Several years ago Professor Braylants of the University of Louvain discovered a method in which no ink at all was required to convey a secret message. He laid several sheets of note paper on each other and wrote on the uppermost with a pencil, then selected one of the under sheets on which no marks of the writing were visible. On exposing this sheet to the vapor of iodine for a few minutes it turned yellowish, and the writing appeared of a violet brown color. On further moistening the paper it turned blue, and the letters showed in violet lines. The explanation is that note paper contains starch, which under pressure becomes "hydramide" and turns blue in the iodine fumes. It is best to write on a hard surface, say a pane of glass. Sulphuric acid gas will make the writing disappear again, and it can be revived a second time.

One of the simplest secret writings, however, to which Professor Gross of Germany calls attention as being used in prisons, is the following:

Take a sheet of common writing paper, moisten it well with clear water and lay it on a hard, smooth surface, such as glass, tin, stone, etc. After removing carefully all air bubbles from the sheet place upon it another dry sheet of equal size and write upon it your communication with a sharp pointed pencil or a simple piece of pointed hard wood. Then destroy the dry paper upon which the writing has been done and allow the wet paper to dry by exposing it to the air, but not to the heat of fire or the flame of a lamp. When dry not a trace of the writing will be visible. But on moistening the sheet again with clear water and holding it against the light the writing can be read in a clear transparency. It disappears again after drying in the air and may be reproduced by moistening a great number of times. Should the sheets be too much heated, however, the writing will disappear, never to reappear again.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Punishment Fits the Crime.

New Zealand fits punishment to crime. Thus, at Wanganui, when certain sawyers troubled their neighbors by their drunken freaks the delinquents were made to pay the fines imposed in such labor as they were accustomed to and were set to sawing wood with which to build a prison. The result was that rather than transgress again they vanished from the locality as soon as the building was complete.

Men who are not considered chronic criminals are subjected occasionally by experiments in this country to a course of Turkish baths, followed by showers and by a cold douche, the idea being that their criminal instincts are due to physical degeneracy which may be thus counteracted.

A Massachusetts town punishes female offenders by giving them at first poor clothes and cracked crockery from which to take their food, good dresses and better table equipment being provided and leave being given to keep pet animals as an improvement in their conduct is made manifest.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Conversation.

The reason why so few people are agreeable in conversation is that each is thinking more of what he is intending to say than of what others are saying, and we never listen when we are planning to speak.—Rochefoucauld.

MIXED IN THE THUNDER.

A Scene in "Macbeth" That Was Not on the Playbill.

It is related of Cooke, the actor, that when a youth, being without the necessary cash to pay for a seat "in front," he got behind the scenes one night and hid himself in a barrel. He had for companions two large cannon balls, but the youth, not being initiated into the [illegible] of the place, did not suspect that [illegible] balls helped to make [illegible] as well as in a [illegible]

Cooke was profound[illegible] silent. The [illegible] brawny stage servitor [illegible] fully to the side scene [illegible] the thunder should rumble [illegible] cue.

All was made ready, the [illegible] took their places amid [illegible] resin, the thunder bell rang, the [illegible] received its impetus with young [illegible] and the cannon balls, the stage [illegible] en lad roaring lustily, to the [illegible] ment of the thunderer, who neglected to stop the rolling machine, which entered on the stage, and Cooke, bursting off the carpet head of the barrel, appeared before the audience, to the horror of the weird sisters and to the hilarity of the spectators.—London Mail.

MUSHROOMS.

Those That Are Poisonous Always Carry the "Death Cup."

Mushrooms when poisonous are the most dangerous plants in existence, as there is no antidote for the poison. Without going into the intricacies of the edible "meadow" (Agaricus campestris), and the "horse" mushroom (Agaricus arvensis), which are among the most wholesome and valuable vegetables, and of the numerous other harmless and nutritious varieties, as distinguished by their dark spores from the poisonous kind with white spores, one rule of observation will preserve the health and safety of any one collecting wild mushrooms for eating. Without the use of a single technical term, the difference in poisonous and nonpoisonous mushrooms is easily shown, even to a novice. What botanists call the "death cup," the volva around the stipe, or, in plainer terms, the socket around the stem, is never absent from the deadly mushrooms. Sometimes it is distinct, well above ground, up around the lower part of the stem; then again it is below ground, but not attached to the stem so as to lose the cup shape, and sometimes it grows upon or is attached to the stem, giving it a bulbous, swollen base. Severely reject every plant that has a bulbous stem or the cup standing out around the stem. All edible and harmless mushrooms have straight stems, the same size from the root to the cap.—Georgia Torrey Denman in Good Housekeeping.

Mystification.

His weakness was prevarication. His wife detested lying and constantly urged him to mend his ways. One morning she said: "Will, see if you can't be perfectly truthful today. Don't tell a lie. Now, promise!" He promised and went away to work. When he came home to dinner, she said:

"Dear, did you keep your promise?"

"I did," he replied soberly.

Then he caught her in his arms.

"Darling," he cried, "I will not lie to you. When I said I had kept my promise to you, I did not tell the truth; but, believe me, that was the only lie I told all day."

For twenty-two seconds she was lost in perplexity. Then she gave it up; the problem was too deep for her.

The Part He Lost.

A New England man tells of a prosperous Connecticut farmer painfully exact in money matters who married a widow of Greenwich possessing in her own right the sum of $10,000. Shortly after the wedding a friend met the farmer, to whom he offered congratulations, at the same time observing, "It's a good thing for you, Malachi, a marriage that means $10,000 to you." "Not quite that, Bill," said the farmer; "not quite that." "Why," exclaimed the friend, "I understood there was every cent of $10,000 in it for you." "I had to pay $2 for a marriage license," said Malachi.

Love Is King.

Love is the great disciplinarian, the supreme harmonizer, the true peacemaker. It is the great balm for all that blights happiness or breeds discontent. It is a sovereign panacea for malice, revenge and all the brutal propensities. As cruelty melts before kindness, so the evil passions find their antidote in sweet charity and loving sympathy.—Success Magazine.
